A8: Independent Study

The Albert Einstein Academies (“AEA” or “Charter School”) Governing Board authorizes independent study as an optional alternative instructional strategy for eligible students whose short term needs may be best met through study outside of the regular classroom setting. Independent study is an optional educational alternative in which no pupil may be required to participate and is designed to teach the knowledge and skills of the core curriculum. The Charter School shall provide appropriate existing services and resources to enable pupils to complete their independent study successfully. The content provided during independent study shall be aligned to grade level standards and substantially equivalent to in-person instruction.

As necessary to meet student needs, independent study may be offered on a short-term basis from three (3) to ten (10) school days only and no more than fourteen (14) cumulative school days per school year. Participation in independent study shall be at the sole discretion of the Superintendent or designee. Independent study will not be approved for student vacations. In the case of an emergency circumstance as defined in Education Code Sections 41422 and/or 46392, and 46393, , independent study may also be offered to ensure that students are able to maintain academic progress in their regular classes and may be offered beyond the time limitations described above.

Parents/guardians of students who are interested in independent study shall contact the Superintendent or designee. The Superintendent or designee may approve independent study for an individual student only upon determining that the student is prepared to meet the LEA's requirements for independent study and is likely to succeed in independent study in a manner comparable to or better than they would in the regular classroom.

For a student with disabilities, as defined in Education Code 56026, participation in independent study may be approved if the student’s individualized education program specifically provides for such participation. (Education Code 51745)

A temporarily disabled student shall not receive individual instruction pursuant to Education Code 48206.3 by means of independent study. (Education Code 51745)

The following written policies have been adopted by the AEA Board of Directors for implementation at Charter School:
